

Mike Boucke
Senior Product Manager
AJA Video Systems

Mike got started in the media industry while in the United States Air Force. Mike was stationed at Lowry AFB Colorado for training as a broadcast technician. His first job was as a support technician for Combat Camera, and later he moved to AFNews to build and support TV stations in Europe and Japan. After leaving the military, Mike worked for DirecTV in Los Angeles, then switched to the manufacturing side by joining Nvision, where he eventually became a product manager for control systems and routers.

As a Project Manager at AJA, he really enjoys being a part of a team that focuses on innovation to create products our customers need and find useful. The industry is experiencing a seismic shift from baseband to IP, which makes this an incredibly exciting time to innovate and collaborate with market leaders.
